MYSTERIOUS LETTERS.

Special to the Courier-Journal: Henderson, Ky., Feb. 11.—A queer notice was received by County Clerk L. W. Powell. Similar notices have been sent to other county officials in this vicinity. The letter and notices are as follows:

Gresham, Ky., Feb. 4, 1903.—Mr. County Clerk: Will you post the with in notice in a conspicuous place and oblige.

NO 2.

To Whom It May Concern: There was a man missed in Green county, Ky., about 1894 or 1895. He was between the ages of thirty-five and fifty-five. He was considered an old bachelor. Cannot give a more definite description of him. He rode one of the finest horses ever seen in Green county, the horse being a dark or red sorrel, about six or eight years old. A nephew of this man came to Green county on the hunt for him; name of either not known to the writer. If the friends of this man will correspond with Box No. 2, Gresham, Ky., they can find out what became of him; also of twelve other men, mostly of the peddling class, who were missed in Green county.

MRS. KATE ALEXANDER CRIPPLED.

A letter to Hon. H. C. Baker from Mr. H. C. Read, St. Paul, Minn., dated February 9th says: "Aunt Kate slipped and fell on the icy sidewalk Saturday and fractured her hip joint. The break is in the worst place possible and I fear that it will result in making her a cripple for life, although I understand it is possible to get good results from the modern treatment in such cases. She is standing her suffering without complaint and seems in fact quite cheerful. However, we know that she is in for a long period of close confinement and much suffering."

DIED.

After several months illness Mr. Thos. Burton passed over the river of death last Saturday night at his home near Vester. Mr. Burton was about 55 years of age, an industrious man, a good citizen who will be missed in his section of the country. He was not a member of any church as we are informed, but was a man whose good traits of character indicated that he meant to do the right as he understood it. He was honest in his dealings, truthful in his statements and temperate in his habits. To the bereaved family our sympathy is extended.

COULDN'T HOLD THEIR REP.

Messrs. Jim Beard and Bud Eubank claim to be the "crack" players of the town in the game called caroms, and while some people are inclined to believe them the greatest flippers of the little men on the board, yet their reputation was demolished last Saturday evening in a play with Mr. J. K. Robertson and son Ed, who defeated the "cracks" in four consecutive games—just like a man playing with a kid, as it were. They were advised to learn how to play and when they could make a game interesting to call again.

PREACHING NEXT SUNDAY.

W. S. Dudgeon, Freedom.
Z. T. Williams, Nel.
W. H. C. Sandidge, Salem.
J. Q. Montgomery, Liberty.
J. F. Barger, Concord.
E. N. Metcalf, Milltown.
A. L. Mel, Pleasant Ridge.
T. F. Barber, Clear Spring.
G. Lawless, Pleasant View.
J. L. Adkins, Gradyville.
W. K. Azbill, Columbia.
W. B. Cave, Pierce Chapel.

Eld. W. K. Azbill has been running some additional lines, offshoots from the original survey between this place and Campbellsville, and has shortened the distance several hundred yards. There is yet some preliminary work, but in a short time the matter will be in shape to submit to capitalists. Mr. Azbill is indeed earnest about this enterprise and is confident that he will be successful in his efforts. The road will be of incalculable value to both Adair and Taylor counties and every body who feels an interest in seeing this section of the State come to the front should lend him all the aid possible.

Mr. L. V. Hall has received the contract for roofing Mr. Myers' new residence. Mr. Hall will be assisted in this work by Mr. Mat Heizer, of Campbellsville. Both are first-class timbermen and Mr. Myers has made no mistake in letting such an important contract for the roof ought to be strictly good in every particular.

Work of putting in the crossings at the four entrances to the public square has commenced.

There are about forty pupils in the normal department of the M. and F. High School.

FOR SALE.—I desire to sell my residence and ground attached, lying near Fair Grounds.

W. H. Jones.

Everything in Winter goods at cost. Overcoats, heavy shoes and all other winter goods.

W. L. WALKER.

There were about twenty-five hundred cattle sold on the Louisville market last week. All butcher stuff was quickly sold at $4.00 to $4.35.

I am making very low prices on fencing wire and nails, will save you money by coming to W. L. Walker's.

There are four persons in the Casey county jail who have confessed their guilt in the robbery of several stores in Liberty on the night of the 20th of January.

You can buy a suit of Winter clothes at a big reduction at W. L. Walker's. Come before sizes are sold out—am going to sell them—anything in heavy clothing, at cost.

Old "Uncle" Wise Johnson, one of the most prosperous and also the most courteous of his race, in this county, is now very sick. "Uncle Wise is a good example for many of the colored people to imitate.

We understand that Mr. Jas. T. Page has laid off a number of building lots, beyond the bridge, which will be put upon the market. The business of selling these lots, we understand, is in the hands of Stults & Tntt.

A large audience heard Dr. U. L. Taylor's lecture at the Hall last Saturday night. It was to men only, and the speaker gave much information that will probably be given more attention in the future.

The custodian of the road machine ought to have said machine pulled out of the mud on Russell creek where it is now standing exposed to the weather. If the machine is worth what it cost it is worth housing in Winter weather.

Capt. W. L. Walker, of Nel., who is well-known over Adair county, celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday last Sunday. A magnificent dinner was spread to which all his children and grand-children were present. Capt. Walker is yet a strong vigorous man.

The following persons have procured licenses to wed from the Adair county clerk's office in the last few days: Lucian Hendrickson to Miss Lena B. Harmon; Robt. S. Thomas to Miss Sallie I. Stone; R. C. Keltner to Miss Cassie L. Garrison; Walter James to Miss Dora Stotts; W. B. Bradshaw to Mrs. Kate Yarbary.

The way to improve is for the citizens of Columbia together—help the town, help the county and help yourself. Enterprising citizens not only advance their own interest, but elevate the whole community. Therefore, we say when a new enterprise is started every body should take hold and make it a success.

Since the rise in Russell creek the crossing on the Stanford road is left in bad shape. Fully one hundred loads of muck were deposited in the road and it is almost impossible to get through it with a load. This particular place is left in an almost impassable condition after every rise and yet it is one of the most important crossings in the county.

The merchants throughout this section anticipate a large Spring trade and many will go to market early. They are now having clearance sales and in a few weeks their shelves will be filled with new goods. There is no necessity for leaving Columbia to buy anything you need in the mercantile line. Our merchants know the wants of the people, and every effort will be made to accommodate them.

Mr. J. S. Naylor is building a splendid barn. It is a frame structure thirty odd feet wide and sixty long and will house a large quantity of feed as well as shelter all of his stock. Good barns are worth much more than they cost in a country like this for they can be built out of material not merchantable. Mr. Samuel Collins has also finished a good frame barn on his farm which makes his farm look like a different place.

Coffey Bros. & Robertson did a good business buying horses and mules last week. This is an enterprising firm, ready to buy anything in the way of horse flesh that is marketable. We do not know the number of mules and horses they have handled in the last three months, but quite a number. They are splendid judges of stock and give liberal prices. We commend them to all parties who have stock ready for the market.

About fifteen days ago Mr. Irvine Blair was painfully hurt and barely escaped losing his life. He was riding and his horse went into quick sand which threw Mr. Blair and unfortunately one foot hung in the strypud. This excited the horse and he was kicked and dragged about 30 yards. One leg was injured and the bone under one of his eyes was broken. He has been confined for several days but was able to be in town Saturday and we trust will soon be entirely well.

Mr. N. M. Tutt, treasurer of the local committee for the Methodist School, requests all subscribers to the fund to come and pay the amount due. The committee has closed the contract for the property and we trust no one will further delay payment. It will soon be time for active work to begin and all who have given to this enterprise ought to be punctual and not put the committee here in an embarrassing condition and thus delay work. Come to town and pay Mr. Tutt all you can. If you can settle your entire subscription do so, if not, pay half of it or one eighth as you agreed to do. The sooner this is done the better for you as well as the committee and the institution. If you can't come then send your check to N. M. Tutt who will return your note or receipt you as the case may require. Don't delay this longer but act.

Jamestown, Feb. 16, 1903.

The smallest crowd I ever saw at the opening of circuit court in Russell county is in Jamestown to-day. It is raining, hailing, snowing and is cold stormy weather. The roads are almost impassable and the water courses are past fording. Hence it is impossible for many people to get here who would have otherwise put in an appearance. The grand jury reached town and is now being instructed by Judge Jones, Hon. H. C. Baker, Judge John L. Sullivan and Junius Hancock are here but there will be no speaking. Coffey Bros. and Robertson are here. They bought seven mules this morning at $75 to $120 per head. The same firm bought in Adair last week 21 horses at $75 to $110 and six mules at $85 to $135 per head.

In last Saturday's mail Mr. W. A. Coffey, of this city, received a box of the finest cigars made in our new possessions. The box was not a large one but this was set off by the superior quality of its contents and the inviting appearance in which the cigars were banded. It was a New Year's present from Lieutenant W. O. Reid of the 6th cavalry, now stationed at Manila, P. I., and was mailed the latter part of December. Lieutenant Reid is a former citizen of Springfield, Ky., and is a special friend of Mr. Coffey's.

Mr. John Mitchell, of Green county, who was here last week, informed us that the enterprising citizens of his county were keeping up the fight for a bridge across Green river at Greensburg. We desire to see all of our adjoining towns prosper, and we hope that the Fiscal Court will look to the interest of the whole people and make an appropriation to build this bridge. Such a structure would be of incalculable benefit to Greensburg, and pride alone for the county should induce those in authority to vote for the bridge.

The oil interest in Cumberland county continues to grow. Salt Lick Bend has added two good wells to her credit. The Westmoreland Co's No. 1, on Z. T. Cloyd's farm, is "in" with a capacity of twenty-five barrels per day. The Greensburg's No. 1, on Mrs. Richardson's farm, has also come in, and is a small producer. Oil men from the East continue to arrive, and fabulous prices are being paid for leases. There is no doubt but there is oil in abundance in this field and that the territory will be worked for all there is in it.

Upon the first page of this paper we publish an address from the State Board of Health to the people of Kentucky. It should be carefully read and the advice given taken. Every body who has not been vaccinated should at once see a physician and have virus inserted in their arm. Physicians who have been dealing with small-pox know their business, and while they manifest such an interest in the human family, due credit should be given them for their knowledge of medicine and the march of disease.

Miss Mary Price entertained last Saturday evening in honor of her visitor, Miss Lizzie Cleaver, of Lebanon. It was a "Ghost Party" and quite a number were present all spending a very pleasant evening. About 10 o'clock refreshments were served after which the guests repaired to their homes expressing themselves as being highly pleased with the manner in which they were entertained.

Ed Pollard, son of Robt. Pollard, of Milltown, died near Edmondton yesterday at the home of A. J. Bridgewater. The funeral will be to-day, Wednesday at Jo Pollard's, near Milltown. Mr. Pollard was about 30 years old and a victim of typhoid fever.

FOR SALE.

I have a real nice young mare for sale, also a good Short horn bull. A well bred boar, 20 shots, two sows and pigs.

W. L. WALKER.

As our paper circulates largely in Green county Woodson Lewis & Bros., Greensburg, use it to tell the people what they have for sale. They have a new "ad" this week.

J. O. Hardesty, who trades in this section, and who will soon locate in Campbellsville, bought four horses last week at an average of $115 per head.

Metcalf county sold nine hogheads of burly in Louisville last Thursday at $10.75 to $14.00. Over thousand hogheads were sold on that day.

The process of developing the music has commenced. The boys are making daily visits to the gymnasium room.

SCHOOL MONEY.

By the direction of the Local Executive Board of the Lindsey-Wilson Training School to be located at Columbia, Ky., I am directed to pay to C. S. Harris fifteen hundred dollars—for the site of said school building. The subscribers to school fund are requested to pay the amount due on their subscription.

N. M. TUTT, TREAS.

The business people of Greensburg are again awakening to the importance of bridging Green river at their town. We are reliably informed that they now have nearly $3,000 subscribed to supplement the levy that will be required from the Fiscal court of their county. A bridge across the river at that place is supposed to cost about $8,000 but if it should cost $10,000 or more it is so essential to the county that no opposition to it should be raised. Particularly ought the people in Greensburg and the South side use all honorable means to cure its building and not a single man in the county should object. The day has come when the people of Southern Kentucky must pull out of the old ruts, they must make life more pleasant by securing such conveniences as are absolutely necessary or they will lose in the future as they have in the past, some of the most progressive young men that this good land is able to produce. This country has already suffered by immigration and it will continue to lose rather than gain unless the field is made more inviting. All countries are not in the slow go easy order and the nervy brainy young man is not slow to see the locality that is moving to the front. Good bridges across the water courses are necessities as well as conveniences, good roads likewise are essential. Here's hoping that the people of Greensburg may be successful in this enterprise and since the News is grateful to the people of that city we hereby tender the "widow's mite" as it were, by authorizing our representative to place a subscription of $5.00 on their paper.

The Jubilee Convention of the Y. M. C. A. held at Lexington last week was a great meeting, resulting in much good and enjoyment to all parties interested in this important work. Such meetings will prove a great stimulus to the cause. It brings together many of the active members, revives their enthusiasm and bids them press forward. The young men who attended from this county all report a wonderful meeting. The delegates from Green county were J. Shreve Durham, Worth Allen, J. R. Ward, R. G. Tucker, W. W. Mitchell, Edgar Altom, Rev. H. S. Bell, W. W. Taylor, Wm. Moore, M. V. Ward, C. L. Chapman, H. L. and L. L. Patton, E. F. Wade, W. E. Vance, C. C. Mitchell, Robert Hancock. In attendance and not delegates, Colby Cowherd, Lewis Shreve and Willie Patton. Taylor county: Omer Goode, Jack Sanders, Ed Hill and R. A. Sanders. Adair county: C. A. Bell, Ray Conover, A. S. Chewning, Olie Taylor. Attended not a delegate Joe Williams.

One of the most successful and interesting series of meetings ever held in Greensburg was probably closed last Sunday evening. It was conducted by Rev. C. F. Hartford, the pastor of the M. E. church, South, assisted by Rev. W. H. C. Sandidge, of this county. Bro. Sandidge left Saturday afternoon and up to that time 22 professions had been made and a deep interest was manifesting itself. All denominations participated. All received the great blessings and it was truly an old time union meeting. The members of all the churches were revived and the mantle of peace and good will covers the entire town.

Hon. J. H. C. Sandidge, of Burksville, who is 70 odd years old, and one of the most prominent citizens of Cumberland county, fell while walking on a side walk in his town Monday and received a serious injury. One of his legs was broken about four inches below the hip joint. We are informed that he stood the treatment of setting the broken bone with remarkable courage and at this hour is doing as well as his physicians could expect.

Rev. J. B. Bozeman, pastor of the Campbellsville Baptist Church, preached a very interesting sermon last Sunday forenoon in the Baptist Church, this town. The church of Campbellsville ought to feel proud of their pastor for he shows to have the faith as well as the ability. Owing to high waters the country people could not attend church and the congregation was not so large as it would have been under more favorable conditions.

A GOOD START.

Mr. Geo. Flowers, town Marshall, arrested J. Buck Willis and Charley Hunter, of color, last Sunday for drunkenness and placed them behind the bars. All we have to say is "a good start is half the battle," and if the Marshall will "hue to the line" few jugs will be received. A rigid enforcement of the laws is bound to result in bettering any community and much depends on the Marshall. Keep the ball rolling.

SCHOOL MONEY.

By the direction of the Local Executive Board of the Lindsey-Wilson Training School to be located at Columbia, Ky., I am directed to pay to C. S. Harris fifteen hundred dollars—for the site of said school building. The subscribers to school fund are requested to pay the amount due on their subscription.

N. M. TUTT, TREAS.

All persons owing me either by note, account, or fee bills will call and settle at once. This will save cost.

J. W. Butler.

The mercury dropped to six below zero in Columbia Monday night—the severest yet of the Winter is broad cast throughout the whole country, but there will be better days later on—look forward.

C. W. Sparks, a well known merchant of Weed, will be connected in a short time with the outside world by telephone.

Quite a number of our people and especially his relatives, attended the 78th anniversary of uncle Will Walker, at Nell last Sunday. Uncle Will and his better half, aunt Sallie, know exactly what it takes to make you feel pleasant.

Mrs. Ellen Holladay, of Joppa, spent a few days of last week with her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Walker.

Gradyville string band rendered some very excellent music at the residence of Messrs. Charles Yates and G. T. Flowers, one evening last week.

Mr. Clayton Pile, who has been living near here for several years, will leave in a few days for Campbellsville, where he will make his home.

Big creek, the stream of water that runs through our town, was higher a few days ago than it has been for several years. It was almost like a young river, taking every thing that it came in contact with.

Rev. James Deboard, assisted by Rev. Mills, of Albany, is holding a meeting at Russell Springs.

Mr. Joel Moore is having some of the best oak and poplar lumber sawed that has been sawed here for many years.

Messrs. H. A. Walker and Fount Pendleton made a trip through the Sparksville community last week looking after hogs.

Our farmers are preparing to sow a large crop of oats. They are burning plant beds, indicating a large crop of tobacco.

Mr. Henry Moss, of Bakerton, was here last week enroute for Greensburg. He informed us that the recent rains did not swell Cumberland river very much, consequently there was no damage done.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wilmore, in company with their mother, Mrs. Brown, of Bliss, enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Yates, one day last week.

N. H. Moss and L. Shuffit will leave in a few days for an extended visit to the Lone Star State, and probably will invest in real estate.

Mr. John Caldwell, one of our popular young men, left on a visit to the good old State of Tennessee last Saturday.

We are glad to note that Mr. Strong Hill has concluded to rebuild his carding machine and card wool here. Mr. Hill will be ready at the beginning of the season with new and complete machinery to wait on his trade. His wife will also continue her business and keep a first-class stock of millinery goods on hand at all times.

Some one entered the tobacco barn of Mr. Chas. Sexton one night last week and certainly helped themselves. Mr. Sexton is a wide-awake business man and a shoemaker by occupation. He has the best knowledge of the size of any persons foot in this community, for he took the measure of the track and traced the guilty one to their destination and found his tobacco scattered all over the house of the accused. We trust the next grand jury will investigate all such cases.

Smith & Nell passed through here last week with the largest drove of hogs that ever went up the pike, numbering 325, enroute for Greensburg. They were shipped to the Louisville market. They bought of Cobbell Bros. 121 hogs, at $1.25; 200 hogs in Metcalfe county; 5 to 5 1/2; 8 hogs of J. A. Diddle; 500; 5 of J. W. Sexton; 237 5/2 of P. H. Keltner; 85 5/2 of W. L. Sharp; 678; 5 of B. James; 639; 13 of B. H. Huddman; 519 1/2; 2 of W. W.

Yates, $13 5/2; 2 of Mr. Moran, $30; 9 of Willis Pace, $98; 13 of T. W. Page, $110; 2 of J. S. Campbell, $15 5/2; 5 of L. D. Dudley, $25. They sold in Louisville 96 hogs for $1,040; also 2 mules to C. R. Cabell for $245.

We cannot get away from our place with any satisfaction on account of bad roads and high water. We have concluded to content ourselves with our own town. We have organized a debating society under the name of Excelsior with a membership of fifteen. The society met at the college last Friday evening and ably discussed the subject "Resolved that the works of nature are more attractive than the works of art," affirmative, Rev. Jas. Deboard, N. H. Moss and J. H. Nell; negative, Rev. A. L. Mell, C. O. Moss and W. M. Wilmore. The decision was handed down to the affirmative.
